OPENING GUN--Sunday River snowmakers Mike Leitch (left) and Glenn Newell check out the product of their labors Friday, as the Newry ski resort became one of the first in the United States to open for the 1996-97 ski and snowboard season. Unseasonably cool overnight temperatures made the snowmaking possible, leading to the earliest opening in the resort's 38-year history. Three days later that earliest-ever opening was followed by the earliest-ever closing (temporarily), as seasonable temperatures returned and Sunday River staffers went back to their normal pre-season chores. The resort is ready to open permanently for the season as soon as temperatures permit, according to spokesman Ken Beaulieu. This weekend area residents and visitors will be able to enjoy for themselves a snowmaker's view from the top -- see "Fall Festival" story below for details.

Years have not softened Albany's opposition to a high-stakes bingo hall

By PAM CHODOSH

"I can't believe we're here again," said Dorothy Duddy as she plugged in the coffee pot this past Sunday night and watched to see how many people would come through the door of Albany's Town Hall.

As they had at a similar meeting in 1992, residents of Albany -- and others -- were gathering Sunday to discuss the proposal for a high-stakes bingo hall in their township, and to see what they could do to prevent such a prospect from coming to pass.

By the time Al Barth called the meeting to order, 75 or 80 people filled the hall's old-fashioned, wooden benches, with many standing at the room's edge. Barth introduced the six people who sat at the head table: John Williams, executive director of LURC; Nunn

Ferguson, state senator; Greg Nadeau, a policy adviser to the governor on the subject of gaming; "There's always action in the area of gaming," he'd said earlier.; Norma Salway, Albany Township community spokesperson; Dorothy Duddy, one of the meeting's organizers and official timekeeper; and Al Barth, state representative. Sitting in the front row were County Sheriff Skip Herrick and County Commissioners Steve Merrill and Jim Catey.

Absent was Fred Moore III, Passamaquoddy Tribe member and official, though non-voting, representative to the state Legislature. The Passamaquoddy Tribe has proposed building the bingo hall on tribal land in Albany.

Boards greenlight night skiing and snowboarding

By ALISON ALOISIO

It's official -- Ski Mt. Abram can now turn on the lights for night skiing this winter, and Sunday River can offer snowboarding under the lights.

Mt. Abram's application to illuminate 10 trails was approved Monday by the Greenwood Planning Board. The permit, however, must be reviewed within a year to see how the project is working out.

"We've had all positive things said about this (by townspeople). Once they see it, I hope it remains positive," said chairman Richard Conant.

He said the review does not imply

there is any possibility that the permit will be revoked. It is simply meant to monitor, and deal with, any problems that might arise. He cited traffic as an example.

Board member Nancy Dewing also pointed out that citizens might simply voice their support when the time for review comes.

The specifics of the permit provide for the installation of 80 light poles and up to 150 lights. The slopes may be illuminated until 10 p.m. on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, and on every night of Christmas and February school vacation.

It's Fall Festival Weekend

By MICHAEL DANIELS

More than 85 New England artisans will showcase their wares at Sunday River Ski Resort this weekend, during the 13th annual Blue Mountain Arts and Crafts Festival, at South Ridge base lodge from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Other Fall Festival activities at Sunday River will include the Mahoosuc Arts Council Bike/Run races, lift-served mountain biking, hiking, and chair-lift rides for leaf peepers.

Bike/Run competitors can choose between a 3-mile run to the summit of Barker Mountain or a 10-mile bike trek through the mountain bike park. Both races, open to children and adults, begin at 10 a.m.

Pre-registration fees are $12 per person and include a long-sleeve, 100-percent cotton T-shirt and eligibility to win great prizes in each category. This year's race T-shirt was designed by Per Sandstrom. Registration the day of the race is $15. A second and new method of registration this year involves collecting pledges for the race fee. Details are available from the Mahoosuc Arts Council office, 824-3575.

The race registration desk will be located at the Sharpshooter's Desk at South Ridge and will be open from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m. The race begins at 10 a.m. sharp at South Ridge. Runners and hikers

Area's growth brings with it increased health-care options

• But physicians here are still in short supply

By ALISON ALOISIO

The end of 1996 will see two new medical clinics in the underserved Bethel area -- giving patients choices beyond the long-established Bethel Area Health Center.

But will those choices be threatened if managed care also comes to town?

Clientele growing

Dr. Tom O'Meara's Riverside Family Practice opened early this year. Next month Sunday River Ski Resort will open a seasonal clinic to serve skiers and employees.

O'Meara's clientele now numbers in the several hundreds, helped in part by the fact he formerly practiced at BAHC. "It's growing every week," he said of his practice.

BAHC also continues to grow, according to Linda Ray, interim executive director. "We have 5,500 patients now, compared to 4,500 in 1992," she said. The staff has increased by roughly 25 percent since 1990, to 25 employees.

She said the growth is partly due to the health center's effort to reach out geographically to attract more patients.

BAHC receives some of its funding through a federal grant. Continuation of the grant is dependent on the area being classified as underserved -- a combination of relatively high area physician-patient ratios and the inability of a significant portion of the population to pay for care.

A recent report on community health status in western Maine showed Oxford County having a doctor-patient ratio of 1 to 1,228, compared to the state average of 1 to 438. And many Bethel-area residents -- almost 40 percent -- are underinsured, according to Ray.

She believes it would take a significant influx of new doctors before the doctor-patient ratio could have a negative effect on BAHC's funding. She said Norway, with what appears to be a relatively large number of doctors, was recently classified as underserved.

From O'Meara's perspective, the general practitioner-patient ratio is not the major issue.

"It's more the access to specialists when they're needed," he said.

Regarding the need for medical care in general, O'Meara said, "There's been a lot of interest focused on the growth and economy in the area. I think the providers will come in to supply that need."

BAHC doctors at Sunday River?

The clinic at Sunday River, known as the Western Maine Mountain Clinic, is scheduled to open in November. It will be housed in a new addition to the South Ridge Lodge.

Chip Seamans, vice president for mountain operations, said requests by guests, the general growth of the ski area, the distance to travel for other treatment (Bethel or Norway) and the availability of space prompted the clinic's establishment this season.

BAHC has handled some of Sunday River's skier injuries in the past. Ray said the health center's physicians may be involved in the care provided at the mountain. Negotiations with Sunday River are currently underway, she said.

"It's unclear what our role will be.

MANAGING HER BLOOD PRESSURE--Managed health care may eventually affect practices in Bethel. Gwyneth Bohr and her family were part of a managed care organization in Washington, D.C., for 36 years. "It wasn't true that you couldn't choose your care," she said. "We found it very satisfactory." Here, Dr. Tom O'Meara of Riverside Family Practice takes Bohr's blood pressure. MAIN STREET DECORATING

To the Editor:

Once again we need to be proud of the beauty of our town. The Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce Special Projects Committee is always looking for ideas and help with decorations. The cornstalks that grace Main Street were made possible by Dave and Sue Burnham, Art Marshall and Mike O'Donnell, who donated the cornstalks. Barbara Testani helped to put up the decorations.

The cornstalks will stay up until Thanksgiving when we start to decorate for Christmas. Anyone who would like to be involved with the decorating may call the chamber office at 824-2282 to volunteer.

Thank you to all of you who made the fall decorations possible.

BOTTLE DRIVE THANK YOU

To the Editor:

This letter is to thank the many people who participated in the bottle drive Saturday, Sept. 28. This drive was to raise money for the books that will be ordered for Telstar Middle School in the library, and also for the many extra activities that money is needed for. Thank you to all the students who did a great job of sorting and collecting bottles with the help of many thoughtful parents from all the surrounding towns. Even from as far away as Andover. Also many thanks to the citizens in the SAD44 area who donated their returnable bottles to raise these much-needed funds. Everyone deserves a big applause for all their volunteered time.

CAMERON BEST CANDIDATE

To the Editor:

As Republican Chairman for the town of Woodstock, I would like to wholeheartedly recommend the current candidate for the Maine Legislature from district 70, Robert Cameron of Rumford, for your consideration as you vote on Nov. 5.

I was glad to work with Rob on his first campaign two years ago. I found him to be a very enthusiastic, ambitious candidate, calling personally on every home regardless of party affiliation. He is definitely a "we the people" candidate and is strongly opposed to "big government." That's the kind of person we need to represent us.

I personally feel that he has done a wonderful job in his first term. He certainly has a remarkable record for the two sessions on Roll Call votes. In the first session of the 117th Legislature he achieved 95.5 percent and in the second session he came up with 95.1 percent. I call this excellent representation and commend him for it.

He introduced four bills in this same session of Legislature. The first LD800, an act to allow properly trained optometrists to treat patients with glaucoma.

The second bill, LD1118 was an act to designate the inherent dangers of skiing. This act brought Maine into parity with other states as to what ski areas could be held liable for; what they do to their properties, but not to hold them accountable for inherent dangers of skiing, such as trees or rocks.

The third bill LD1356, an act "to protect the purchasers of pets from getting diseased and skeletally, unsound animals from pet dealers." This gives the purchaser some assurance that the animal is sound and healthy.

The final bill LD442, an act "to allow the sale of short-term health insurance policies." Such policies should not be of more than 12 months duration. This type of policy would be especially helpful for between jobs as well as students between graduation and their first job.

As for the forestry amendments that will be on the ballot in the coming election, Rob is of course very strongly opposed to the first amendment initiated by the Green Party. The so called "Clearcutting Amendment." According to his statement made at the last Oxford County monthly meeting, he feels the only option is to go along with the second amendment, inasmuch as to vote neither would increase the advantage of the first toward winning. You may rest assured that in no way would he be in favor of the state sending uninvited forest wardens from Augusta to tell him what he can or cannot cut.

Keep in mind that this Representative has woodland of his own on his farm in South Rumford which he is presently operating. Thus he can identify with other farmers.

Then, too, inasmuch as he was employed in the paper mill in Rumford for a number of years, he can therefore identify with those working under a union. I am sure, therefore, he would not favor legislation that would hurt or hinder the welfare of those he has worked with.

Rest assured that Rob Cameron is not a politician, but a conscientious, honest citizen of Maine, seeking to help make this state a better place to live in tranquility and prosperity. He is unalterably opposed to "big government," either by state or nation, but deeply committed to the principle of "government of the people, by the people and for the people" as the only way to go.

I am personally deeply convinced that this man is worthy, therefore, of your thoughtful consideration to elect again for another two years, to the House of Representatives of the State of Maine.

Representative Cameron is representing Woodstock, Milton and part of Rumford.

Officials stump for new dump arrangement

By ALISON ALOISIO

Going to the dump on Saturdays is a time-honored rural tradition.

But in Greenwood and Woodstock, traveling to two separate locations to dump various types of trash can make the trip a half-day affair.

Officials are now looking for ways to make trash disposal more convenient for users -- and more cost-effective for the towns.

Currently, residents of both towns must take their recyclables and household trash to the transfer station in Locke Mills. Then, they must take their old appliances, furniture, metals and demolition and construction debris to the stump dump in Greenwood City -- six miles away.

In addition, the stump dump is relatively inaccessible to large trucks, and needs $43,000 of work to upgrade the site for permitting reasons.

Some residents and officials say there has to be a better way.

Last week George Hooper asked Woodstock selectmen to put an article on the March 1997 Town Meeting warrant to raise money for acquiring and developing a site in Woodstock that would handle all waste disposal.

"I think we are going to look at it," said Vern Maxfield, Woodstock's town manager. "If we could find a site together (with Greenwood), that would be great. But we'll do a lot of leg work -- look at possible sites and permitting involved. We'd want to do a lot of investigation if we take it to Town Meeting."

Meanwhile, the Greenwood and Woodstock Solid Waste Committee (made up of the two boards of selectmen) will look at a less drastic option.

"We might be able to reshuffle the recycling containers at the transfer station, and put the white and brown goods containers there," said Mane Bartlett, chairman of the Greenwood selectmen.

White and brown goods currently go to containers at the stump dump site. As part of the required upgrade, cement pads were to be placed under the containers.

"If we're going to put money into concrete slabs, we might make that investment at the transfer station. Then the stump dump would only be for burning. I'd like to see that myself. It is quite a distance for everyone to travel," Bartlett said.

She said the committee plans to inspect the transfer station site later this month to see if the plan is feasible.

TIGHT FIT—The entrance to the Greenwood Stump Dump is narrow for large trucks -- one reason officials are looking at either relocating the waste containers or finding an entirely new disposal site.

are required to walk down from the finish.

Sunday River's Mountain Bike Park, featuring more than 60 miles of trails and single track, closes for the season on Monday, Oct. 14.

The park is serviced by the South Ridge quad and North Peak triple chair lifts, which operate from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Leaf-peepers can take advantage of scenic chair-lift rides, and hikers of all ability levels can enjoy miles of trails.

The weekend is also the final opportunity for skiers and snowboarders to purchase a 1996-97 Sunday River season pass at pre-season rates.

THIS WEEK AT THE

Moses Mason House

A variety of items from spinning accessories to a saw set were among those featured at the annual "What's It" meeting of the Bethel Historical Society held Thursday evening at the Dr. Moses Mason House meeting room. President Walter Hatch held up a number of objects while the audience attempted to determine their purpose. Several are still unidentified, and those owning them were advised to send them to a publication which carries photographs of unusual and unknown objects to see if anyone can help determine the name and/or purpose.

Following this portion of the meeting, Society Director Stanley R. Howe showed about 80 slides made during the past year of old photographs that have been added to the society's slide collection. There are now nearly 15,000 historical images in this collection.

Briefly

Supt. contract to be extended?

ANDOVER--The SAD44 School Board will decide Tuesday whether to negotiate with interim Supt. Dr. Kent Webster to remain in the position through the rest of this school year. Webster was initially hired for the period of Oct. 1 through Dec. 31, replacing Ron Jenkins, who left to take another job. The board will also decide whether to reopen the search for a permanent superintendent and readvertise, with a starting date for the permanent position of July 1, 1997. The Superintendent Search Committee has already gone through the process once. Tuesday's School Board meeting is scheduled to take place at the Andover Elementary School.

Treatment plant meeting

BETHEL--The Bethel Board of Selectmen has scheduled a public informational meeting for Thursday, Oct. 17 on proposed improvements at the town sewage treatment plant. The proposed upgrade, designed to increase the plant's capacity for meeting future growth, is estimated to cost just over $1.7 million. The funding would be in the form of a Rural Development loan/grant package, with the town borrowing $769,080. Voter approval -- at a special Town Meeting -- would be required before the town could go ahead with the borrowing.

Kids fly free Saturday

BETHEL--Bethel Air Service will offer free plane rides for SAD44 kids from 9-12 a.m. on Saturday, Oct. 12. Scenic flights will also be available all day.

Municipal officials/candidates to meet

BETHEL--A regional meeting of legislative candidates and municipal officers from Senate districts 24 and 25 is scheduled for Oct. 10 at 6:30 p.m. at the Crescent Park School. The event is planned to allow local elected and appointed officials to meet with the candidates in their own communities before they are elected and depart for Augusta. It also provides the candidates an opportunity to learn about local issues. The meeting is one of 30 planned around the state to discuss concerns regarding the effects on taxpayers of the projected state budget shortfall of $365 to $430 million.

Selectmen to study forest options

GREENWOOD--Selectmen voted last week to study whether to enter a forestry management plan for town-owned properties, or sell them to get them back on the tax rolls. Chairman Marie Bartlett said forester Jeff Meserve of the Penley Corp. had told them his company is approaching all abutters to Penley land to ask if they would like help in establishing management plans on their property. Selectmen planned to take up the issue again at last night's (Tuesday) regular meeting, after getting more information on town policy on wood harvesting.

Reservoir application incomplete

ANDOVER--Selectmen and Water District trustees learned last week an application to the Department of Environmental Protection to remove debris from Stony Brook Reservoir is incomplete. Trustees had planned to use heavy equipment for the cleaning. Missing from the application are: an improved drawing showing the area of the reservoir; the location of the parking lot shown on either the property map or the drawing for the reservoir; a rough drawing of a cross section of the reservoir; a copy of the tax map showing the district's property, with the location of the reservoir, stream and abutters' properties and names; a copy of the latest water quality tests to avoid the need for a solid waste permit to dispose of the excavated material; a plan for reducing sedimentation to the stream.

Get your permit from Sylvia

NEWRY--Administrative assistant Sylvia Gray has been temporarily designated to sign routine building permits, following the resignation of Code Enforcement Officer Norm Putnam. Other permits will have to be brought before selectmen, until a new CEO can be found. Putnam's resignation was effective Oct. 1.

Umbagog refuge gets 200 acres

UPTON--The Lake Umbagog National Wildlife Refuge has 200 more protected acres, following a sale by Boise Cascade Corp. to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. The land, in Upton, was sold for $146,000, and includes a 121-acre woodlot, a 33-foot-wide strip along the southeast shore of Lake Umbagog, and a 100-foot wide strip along the site of a former mill and dam on the Dead Cambridge River. A total of 7,850 acres of the refuge, which straddles Maine and New Hampshire, is protected by a variety of means including conservation organizations, private landowners and conservation easements. Other lands on the Maine side of the lake may be purchased in the future, according to Daniel Leahy, really specialist for the USFWS.

Parents to decide on retention?

RUMFORD--A proposed policy that gives parents the responsibility for deciding whether students should be held back if they can't read at their current grade level has been tabled by SAD43 directors. They plan to revise the policy at an Oct. 22 meeting. Under the proposal, parents may oppose retention, but must sign a written statement that they have considered the recommendations of the faculty, staff and administration, and advised of the possible consequences of their decision.

Great Pond panel gets large response

AUGUSTA--In numbers that far exceeded expectations, residents and visitors attended meetings or sent written comments on the Great Pond Task Force's recommendations on the future management of Maine's lakes and ponds. One-hundred seventy-five citizens presented testimony, more than 300 sent letters, and more than 500 completed questionnaires. The Great Pond Task Force was established in 1995 by the Legislature with the responsibility of developing and implementing a strategy for Maine's great ponds, defined as lakes and ponds 10 acres or more in size, or impounded water bodies at least 30 acres.

Panel addresses snowmobile safety

AUGUSTA--A voluntary snowmobile safety inspection program modeled after New Hampshire's could reduce the record number of fatalities and accidents on Maine's trails, a task force said last week. Maine recorded 12 snowmobile deaths last season -- four more than the previous record. The high figures prompted the Legislature this spring to bolster the penalties for operating snowmobiles and all-terrain vehicles while under the influence and set a zero-tolerance standard for operators under 21. The task force recommends adopting a New Hampshire program in which voluntary inspections and safety reviews are conducted jointly by wardens and snowmobile clubs along the trails. The panel also said if the stronger penalties are not effective, suspending regular driving licenses for operating snowmobiles while drunk and seizing snowmobiles of habitual offenders should be considered.

Fish stocking under way

AUGUSTA--Beginning last week and well into November, upwards of a half million state gamefish -- from brook, brown and lake trout to land-locked salmon and splake -- are being stocked by trucks and aircraft in lakes, ponds and streams statewide. Along with the stocking program, fisheries biologists will be trapnetting and fish culturists will be stripping eggs from trout and salmon to supply eggs for future stocking programs. The eggs will be held and reared at Inland Fisheries and Wildlife Department hatcheries. Stocked gamefish that are raised in Maine hatcheries make up about 40 percent of the state's cold water fishery.

Hot News Tip? --Call 824-2444

ASK A LAWYER

Recently my vehicle was struck and extensively damaged by another driver. The accident was the other person's fault, but they had no liability insurance. Will this person be fined or punished for not abiding by the Maine liability insurance law, and if so, what are the penalties involved? Also, my insurance company will have to pay for repairs to my car in the near future. Will this affect my premium rate?

Answer: In the State of Maine there are numerous prerequisites to the ownership and operation of a motor vehicle, one of which is the requirement that all owners and operators possess liability insurance. This is set forth in what is known as the "financial responsibility" laws of the Maine Statutes.

If the operator of a vehicle is involved in a motor vehicle accident then he is required to produce evidence that he holds a policy of liability insurance. In your situation the other driver clearly failed to do so, and he is therefore in violation of Maine law.

The uninsured driver will be subject to the following penalties for his failure to maintain liability insurance.

A fine of between $100 and $500 may be assessed.

His license shall be suspended.

The registration of his vehicle shall be suspended.

If he neither holds a license nor has a registered vehicle, then his right to apply for a driver's license or registration shall be suspended.

It is noteworthy that any suspensions continue only until the penalized person provides evidence of insurance.

Finally, and most important to a person in your situation, is the question of whether an accident with an uninsured driver can increase your insurance premiums. This will in most cases depend upon the nature of the accident.

Most insurance companies will increase a driver's premium approximately 10 percent after being involved in an accident. However, if you are able to demonstrate to your insurance company that the other driver was wholly at fault, then it is probable that your premium will not increase. Regrettably, if it is the insurance company's position that you were at fault, even though it may be to a lesser extent than the other driver, then it is likely you will be left to bear the 10 percent increase in premium.

From the Bethel Police log:

The hunter becomes the hunted

On Oct. 4 at 12:45 a.m. a subject was stopped on Route 26 for a defective headlight and speeding. A check revealed he was currently wanted in Maine for Failure to Appear in Rumford District Court, for hunting moose out of season. There was a second warrant for FTA for hunting without a license. The subject's bail was set at $5,025, cash only. The check also showed the driver to have a suspended driver's license. Douglas C. Aikens, 26, received a summons for operating without a license, and was arrested on the warrants. He was transported to the Oxford County Jail where he was held in lieu of bail.

Tuesday, Oct. 1

At 2:15 p.m. the SAD44 bus garage advised that the West Bethel bus was stopped, dropping off a student on Route 2, when a small, red vehicle with Massachusetts plates passed the bus. The vehicle was headed west. Police called the Gorham, N.H., Police Department and had them look out for the vehicle.

Wednesday, Oct. 2

At 12:09 a.m. a Bethel Irving Mainway Store employee reported a subject entered the store and acted very suspicious, asking about hours worked, number of people working, etc. He did not buy anything, and was in the store approximately 10 minutes before returning to his vehicle. He remained there, watching the front of the store. On arrival the officer learned from the employee that the subject had departed when another vehicle entered the parking lot. He was last seen west-bound on Route 2. Attempts to locate were unsuccessful.

At 8:30 a.m. an item, valued at $250, was reported stolen from Gould Academy. It was returned to Gould two days later.

At 8:15 a.m. a subject was stopped on the Sunday River Road for very erratic operation of a motor vehicle. He was given field sobriety tests and failed. He said he and his passenger shared a bottle of wine at dinner. Clifford M. Desjardis, 43, of Freeport, was arrested for OUI and transported to the Oxford County Sheriff's Department, where he was given the opportunity to complete a breath test to determine his blood alcohol level. He refused the test and was held in lieu of bail.

This report highlights points of interest from the Bethel Police Department log, but does not include all reports of police activity. To reach the Bethel Police Department, call 911 in emergency situations, 824-3437 in non-emergencies. An answering machine takes calls when an officer is not in the office.

John Williams began by describing LURC's "legal hoops and loops" -- conditions that must be met in order for a project like this to be approved.

The casino requires that the area off Route 5 be redesignated as a general development area. In order to get the rezoning, the Passamaquoddy need to prove that high-stakes beano will promote the economy, that it can fit harmoniously into the area without harming adjacent residences or the environment and that roads and services are adequate.

If this needs test meets with the approval of LURC's seven-member board, the process would move to step two, a detailed engineering and environmental study. If in the end, either side is unhappy with LURC's decision, an appeal can be filed in Superior Court.

The Passamaquoddy have met with LURC and discussed their plans, but to date they have made no formal application. There have been questions about whether the building of this facility is a state matter. It is the official position of LURC and Gov. King that the state does have sovereignty over this decision.

Williams said that once the process has officially begun there will be a public hearing, at which time formally appointed interveners of either the pro or con variety will present testimony.

The public will also be invited to offer their opinions. He assured residents that the hearing would be held close to home, Dorothy Duddy lobbied for Albany's Town Hall. She said, "People think this building is cold and old. Well, we can heat it up."

Williams stated more than once that LURC relies heavily on public input. He said, "Until we get formal application, there is nothing we can do."

As the coffee pot percolated, questions were asked and answered.

Reading from a prepared statement, Norma Salway said she spoke for herself and her neighbors on Songo Pond, who opposed the project and strongly desired to preserve the quality of life in Albany.

"We're aware of the need for additional jobs in the area," she said, "but Albany is not a place to solve this problem."

Greg Nadeau admitted he was surprised to see so many people at a meeting of this kind, especially since the regulatory process had not yet actually begun. "The governor does not support gambling as an economic tool," Nadeau said, referring to Angus King's well-known negative view of gambling. The governor supports the LURC review process. Said Nadeau, "This is not a gambling issue as much as a use issue."

The meeting was opened to the floor. Skip Herrick spoke about the expected increased burden a bingo hall would place on his agency. Alice Kimball was concerned about the two small, posted bridges over which people would have to travel and the inadequacy of the roads. Williams assured her that traffic studies would be required as part of the review process.

There were questions raised about the tribe's tax status, whether the money they made from such an operation would find its way back into the community and concerns about whether the taxpayers of Albany Township would bear the burden of improving and maintaining roads.

A man who was sitting in the front corner of the room stood up and came forward. "I'm Fred Meader from Albany. I'm a Passamaquoddy Indian. I made a hell of a mistake selling that piece of property to the tribe. I'm against that Beano Hall. I assure you, they're not building no beano hall there! I had no idea this was going to transpire. They told me they were going to build a boys' and girls' camp...over my dead body! Let the tribal officials smoke that one!" he said and the room filled with applause.

Bob Folsom spoke about the Crooked River, its designation as a scenic river and the fact that the beano hall site sits in a flood plain. A man who drives a backhoe for D.A. Wilson spoke up from the side of the room. "I was up there on Friday digging test holes. Water poured right into them, every one, not more than three feet down. That's where it ended."

Al Barth asked for a show of hands and it seemed almost everyone in the room opposed the project.

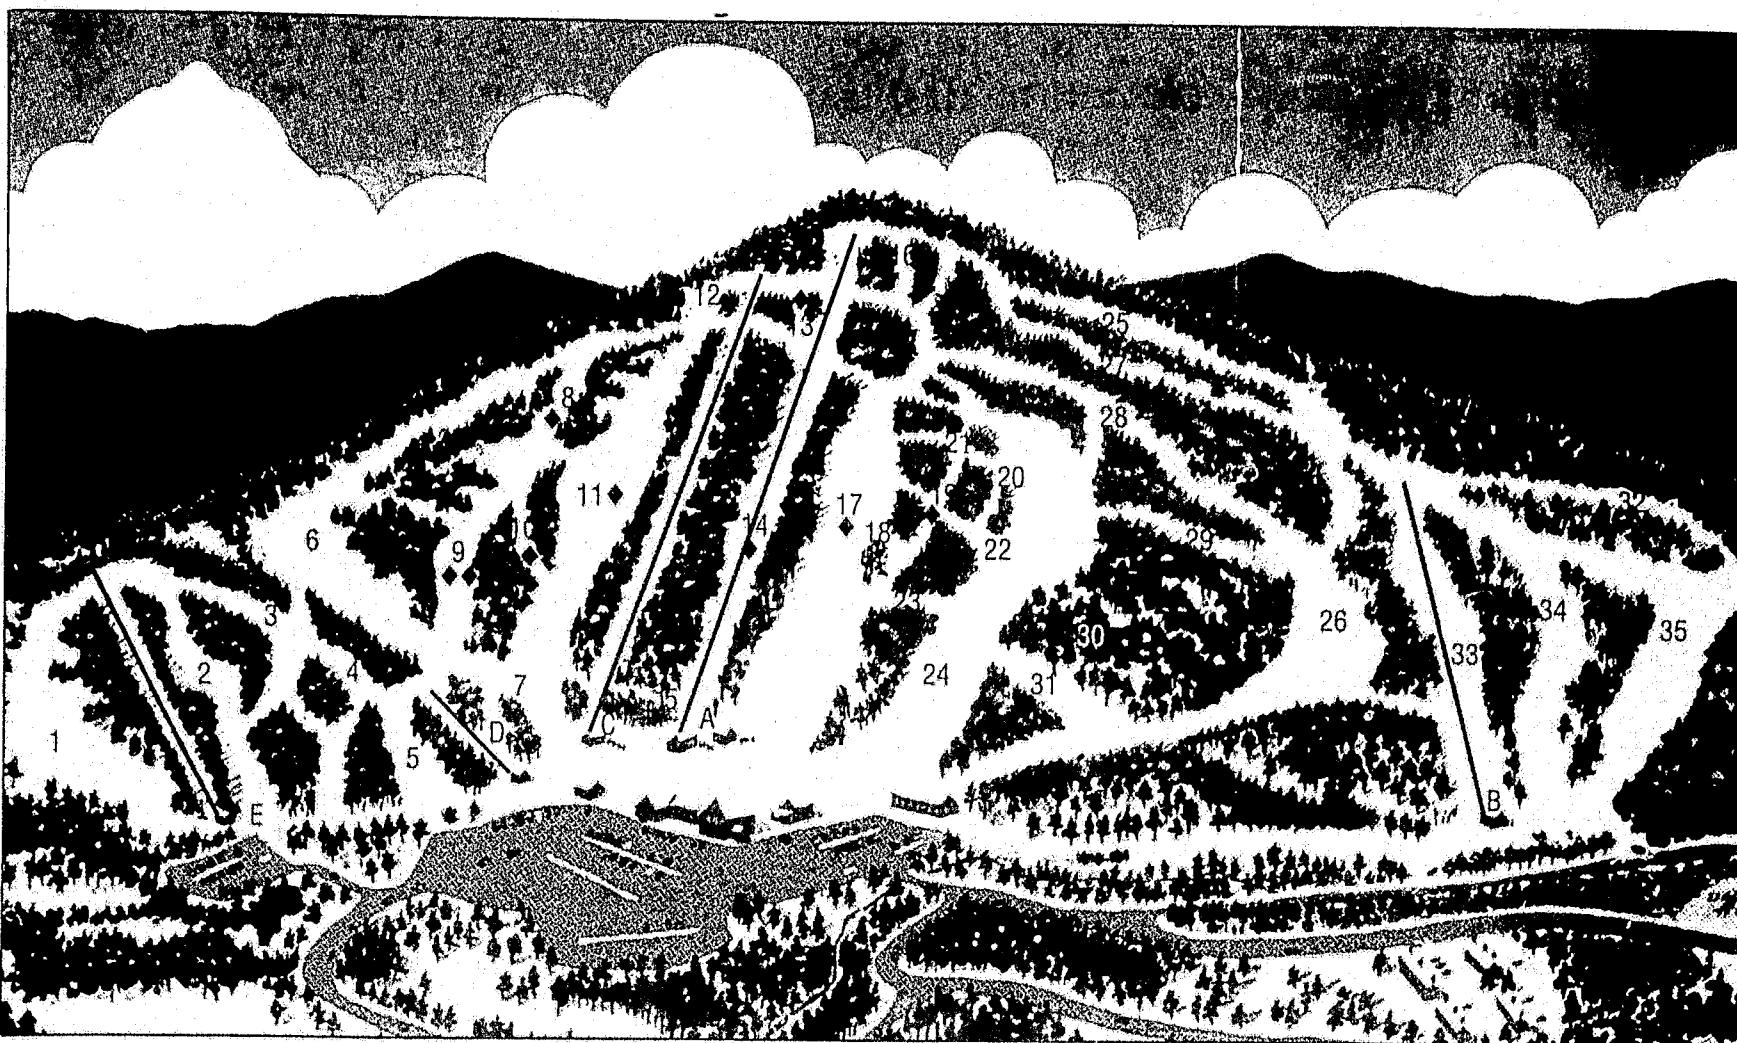

No hands were raised in its support and fewer than a half dozen people indicated they were undecided about it.

In closing, LURC's Williams said that while he wouldn't encourage people to go home that night and write letters, the showing they'd made was important.

"You don't have to organize," he said. "You've shown you already are organized."

Lights

A NEW LOOK AT NIGHT--The trails Mt. Abram plans to light are shown here in white. Trails that will not be are shaded.

cation weeks.

The board also approved illumination until 8 p.m. other nights of the week, to allow for lighted snowmaking and grooming, and possible use of the trails by ski teams.

"I've been approached by several schools about using the trails to train," said owner Rick Hoddinott.

The project also required approval from the Department of Environmental Protection. DEP has granted a permit that could allow illumination until 10 p.m. every evening.

Hoddinott, however, must come back to the Planning Board if skier demand warrants expanded hours.

He also plans to contact DEP about possibly remaining open later than 10 p.m. on holidays, such as New Year's Eve. If he gets the O.K., he would again have to return to the board for final approval.

The planners also approved a lighted snowtubing hill at Mt. Abram, as well as an addition to a snowmaking pump house.

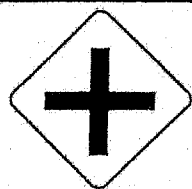

The ski area plans to open Dec. 14 for day skiing, and Dec. 26 or 27 for night skiing, according to marketing director Brian Hendricks.

Lights on at Sunday River, too

Sunday River Ski Resort's plan to light its snowboarding half-pipe and build an arcade building nearby was approved last week by the Newry Planning Board.

The half-pipe and building will be located near the resort's White Cap Lodge.

Sunday River currently has no plans for night skiing, according to spokesman Ken Beaulieu.

Health care

We would like to participate. There may be some concerns over possible conflicts with our current client profile," she said.

Seamans said Sunday River has wanted local care providers involved since the idea was first discussed several years ago.

"We're very much hoping they'll be a part of it. We're doing everything we can to make it happen," he said.

He said a PACE ambulance would still stand by at the mountain on weekends and holidays, as it has in the past.

Keeping managed care local

In the larger picture, O'Meara and the health center are keeping an eye on developments in the move toward managed care.

The managed care approach promises more cost-efficient use of medical resources. But it has also created some worries that patients may lose their choice of doctors and hospitals, as businesses sign up their employees with managed care organizations.

O'Meara said four hospitals in the region -- Stephens Memorial, Rumford Community, Northern Cumberland and Central Maine Medical Center -- are considering banding together to form their own managed care organization. That would decrease the likelihood of out-of-state agents taking over the management, he said.

The regional organization could help lower the costs of care, O'Meara said. The larger group would have greater purchasing power, lessen the duplication of services by sharing patient information, and possibly agree on rates to be charged.

The group might also be able to avoid the disadvantage of patients

"being told this is where you can go and where you can't go," he said. "The organization might provide a diversity of providers in the general area, giving some choice within the area."

Ray agreed the possible loss of choice with managed care is a concern. It would also mean a whole new system of record-keeping. Increased paperwork in general has already necessitated hiring more staff.

"It looks like Medicaid and Medicare may become managed care soon, and that will impact us. It's a large portion (15 percent) of our clientele," she said.

Ray said BAH's affiliation with Stephens Memorial Hospital would bring the health center into any managed care organization that might be set up.

"Whatever happens, we'll be involved," she said.

NOTES FROM

Adult Education

PROJECT FAST TRACK PRESENTATION--From left: Cathy Newell, Kathy Goldberg, Kyle Wilson, Barbara Bush, Beth Gill with Jordan Gill, Maryvonne Wheeler.

Project Fast Track, a collaborative venture between SAD44 Adult Education, the Crescent Park School and Community Concepts/Head Start, has been awarded a continuation grant by the Barbara Bush Foundation for Family Literacy through Maine Family Literacy Initiative.

Project Fast Track, initially funded in January, provides service to families at the critical transition from pre-school through the first years of elementary school. Families are involved in a combination of early childhood education, adult education and inter-generational activities designed to build success in school.

Kathy Goldberg is the instructor for Project Fast Track, with Maryvonne Wheeler of Head Start, Kathy Newell of Adult Education and David Murphy of Crescent Park School taking an active role with program design.

The major emphasis of Project Fast Track is to develop and demonstrate an effective model of service to foster family literacy in all its components, by involving the entire family in the school community.

This will be done by setting individual learning goals and developing educational plans for both adults and children, by involving parents in their child's learning as classroom volunteers, by encouraging positive communication with school personnel, and by the use of group activities including parent support groups and a family library night.

Former First Lady Barbara Bush was in Portland in August to present grant awards, totaling $97,776 to 16 family literacy projects, including Project Fast Track.

As a continuation grant, the Bethel project was selected for a private meeting with Mrs. Bush and her foundation staff and supporters. Project Fast Track family member Beth Gill of Bryant Pond and sons Kyle Wilson and Jordan Gill, as well as Kathy Goldberg, Maryvonne Wheeler and Cathy Newell met with Mrs. Bush for a conversation about the project.

Kyle presented Mrs. Bush with a special reading book used with children in the transition between Head Start and Crescent Park.

Project Fast Track will continue through August 1997 and will serve between 15 and 20 families.

Providing care with a personal touch

By ALISON ALOISIO

Two new caregivers have recently joined the Bethel-area medical community.

Ellen Crocker, a licensed certified social worker, and Cathy Heffernan, a certified nurse-midwife, have joined the staff at the Riverside Family Practice. Both live in Bethel.

Crocker's role is "to help people get through the normal crises of life that happen to all of us."

That role, she said, "used to be filled by an extended family, or clan -- such as a trusted aunt. Some people have called me their 'paid friend.' I used to take offense to that, but we are a very transient society. People are lonely and isolated."

She said counselors such as herself must overcome a stigma associated with therapy.

"People in this area are wary. They have the misconception that to come to see a therapist they have to be pretty far gone," she said. "I've seen some pretty sane people suffering from the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune -- such as a death in the family or problems raising a child."

She hopes also to form some support groups, such as for working single mothers. "There are a lot of pressures on women. They try to uphold the responsibilities of the previous generations, while working full-time," she said.

Even as Crocker makes plans for offering services, she worries about a reduction in insurance coverage for counseling.

"Insurance that used to pay, doesn't any more. Mental health services are becoming a business, not a service," she said.

Someone to trust

Cathy Heffernan's midwife services start long before the labor pains do.

"We emphasize nutrition and exercise -- and having a relationship with someone you trust," she said.

She said such an approach generally results in less need for medicine and Caesarian sections when it comes time to give birth.

"Women know intuitively how to give birth. We promote their own strengths," she said.

The full services of the hospital are still available if needed, however. Heffernan is affiliated with Rumford Community Hospital.

Heffernan, too, hopes to form some groups for discussion. Possible topics include menopause, breast cancer, and teenage issues.

Don Sheard Jr. of Chaplin, Conn. and Mr. and Mrs. Scott Peterson of East Woodstock, Conn. visited the Lords in the forenoon on Sept. 26. Cake, ice cream, coffee and good conversation were enjoyed.

On the same day, Mr. and Mrs. Geshim of East Stoneham and Panama City Beach, Fla., visited in the afternoon.

What promised to be a rather drab day on Sept. 26 turned out to be a special day for Stanley, it being his birthday.

Debbie and Owen Brown of West Bethel attended a hair show in Manchester, N.H., last week. This show featured Douglas Cox and Bobbie Goldsborough, who have had special training in the latest hair styles.

Linda (Brown) Foster of Pittsfield, Mass., and Arlene Brown of Salem, N.H., were weekend visitors of Jim and Bea Brown. While here, they attended the Gould Academy Alumni Reunion activities. This was Linda's 35-year anniversary. Linda returned to Pittsfield on Sunday, while Arlene visited with Rachel MacKay from Sunday to Monday when she returned to Salem.

Albert and Catherine Johnson of Bailey Island visited Randal and Sarah Stevens three days last week. On Wednesday they drove to Rangeley to enjoy the scenery and fall foliage.

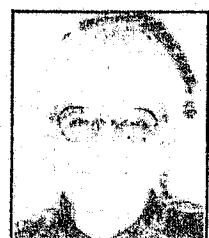

Doris Chiaradonna, Libby Bane and Geraldine Howe were in Lewiston on Monday.

On Wednesday, Doris and Al Chiaradonna, Libby Bane and Rodney and Gerry Howe were in Kennebunkport to view the house of former President Bush.

Stanley Howe and Peggy Wight were in Waterville Tuesday attending a workshop on fundraising. Peggy is a trustee for the historical society.

Rodney and Gerry Howe and Libby Bane attended the supper at the Finn Building in West Paris on Saturday evening.

Students at Andover Elementary School are saving Campbell Soup labels again this year. The labels are collected and reimbursed toward classroom and computer supplies and sporting equipment. Collection boxes will be located at Mills' Market and at the school. Note the type of proof of purchase or label that must be saved: Swanson, Prego, Mrs. Paul's and other brands.

Jean and Maynard Roberts of Wiliston, S.C. have been visiting with his sister and brother-in-law, Eda and Merton Perkins. Get well wishes to Merton following his surgery.

Get well wishes to Sherry Downs who recently underwent emergency surgery. She is recovering from appendicitis.

The Andover Historical Society thanks those that stopped by last Sunday for the Appreciation Open House. Their newsletter noted that the society had received several donations recently, including one from the creators of the 1996 Olde Home Days first-prize float entry award. The Gribbin, Kerchner and Percival families donated their $100 prize to the society. Merton and Eda Perkins have donated a VCR to the organization and they are now able to show the tapes of local senior citizen interviews. A "Snub Machine," a sled type object used in the horse logging days by Ray Thurston in the 1940s, was recovered from the C-Pond area. Peter Poor, Mark Farrington, Bill Swan, Freeman Farrington and Roger Swan all assisted with getting the mechanism out of the woods.

Locke Mills

by Lorraine Mills

It's been a busy week as usual. Andy and I attended my 45th class reunion party at Neil and last Friday evening, and here it is Friday again. Mercy, was it a whole week ago? Anyhow, we had to make a choice between his 40th and my 45th. We went with mine since I was likely to know more people, according to his thinking anyway. I was pleased to see Charlotte Stevens Rowe and Sue Hamilton, whose married name I cannot pronounce much less spell, and others I have seen since school such as Davene Marble Mitchell, Mary Alice Hastings Bancroft, Grace Taylor Douglass, Laura Yates Hutchins, Lester Coolidge, Dick Douglass, Bud Howe, Ruth Donahue, Ted Chadbourne and oh yes, I forgot Nancy Van Bourgon whom I have not seen for years. There may have been others there I missed. Sometimes it's hard to know who are spouses and who are classmates, particularly since some of us changed over the years, at least in looks. Get Mary Alice and Davene together and it spans the years as they giggle and laugh like they used to. Of course an evening is never long enough but it's better than nothing and certainly Alberta and Neil are the perfect hosts.

I have two cats who are very stubborn about this move. They constantly go back to the other house in spite of my every effort to keep them here. If they don't get run over in the process, I hope that when snow comes they will not find it worth the effort. They do like to hunt in their own familiar territory, although I'm sure being around water they could find plenty to hunt around here. Saturday morning I made an emergency run to Dr. Stuer's with a cat that had a urinary tract blockage. Then I thought I would have to make another emergency run for myself when I got the bill. (Not that Dr. Stuer charges any more or maybe not as much as other vets. It's just that caring for animals has gotten more costly like everything else.)

I managed to pick up a cold somewhere along the line, but that didn't stop me from going to Farmington on Thursday, or attending a meeting of the Bethel Historical Society that evening. I hope I was no longer in the contagious stage as I don't want to spread things. Anyhow, it was an enjoyable meeting and we met some long-time friends we hadn't seen for a while.

Fall certainly arrived quickly and seems bent on disappearing just as quickly. We had a long bare spell this spring and I'm wondering if this is a repeat since the leaves seem to have come into color rapidly and are already past peak in many places. It certainly is beautiful right now, especially around this part of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Howard of Grapeland, Texas left Monday, Sept. 30 after spending

10 days with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lowell Sr. Other visitors the past two weeks have been Mr. and Mrs. Roy McKean of Fort Wayne, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. John Hadfield of Fair-haven, Mass.; and daughter and husband Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ennis of Arlington, Vt.

Karlene Bachelder, Betsy Clark, Gil Seeley, Louise Tetley, Bea Lowell, Doris Parent and Olive Anderson, members of the Newry Bowling Gang, were at the Oxford Lanes one day last week. On the overall scores Betsy was high on the triples and singles, with one string of 103. Of the Righties, Doris was high on the triples, but Bea was high on the singles. Betsy had three spares, Karlene and Gil each had one spare, Bea had two strikes and one spare, Louise had one spare and one strike and Doris had one spare. All went to lunch and did some shopping.

The Newry Mothers Club will meet on Monday, Oct. 14 at 7:30 p.m. at the Town Building. Olive Anderson and Gil Seeley are on refreshments.

My niece Theresa Toti of Harrisville, R.I., spent some time with me here in North Newry recently. While here, we took Louise Tetley out to dinner at the Town & Country Inn.

"Sing Along With Bible Characters." Noah: "Singing in the Rain"; Adam and Eve: "Stranger in Paradise"; Lazarus: "The Second Time Around"; Esther: "I Feel Pretty"; Job: "I Gotta Right to Sing the Blues"; Moses: "The Wanderer"; Jezebel: "The Lady is a Tramp"; Samson: "Hair."

John Young of Stanford, Conn., spent the past weekend with his mother, Phyllis Young.

Connie Bacon returned on Tuesday after a two-week trip to her niece Polly Walton's in Sausalito, Calif., and her brother Leo Walton's in Lucerne, Calif. She was accompanied by her sisters, Veronica Malip, and Doris and her husband Tony Albert.

Vernon and I were recently in Grand Rapids, Mich., for a reunion of the 87th Infantry Division. While there, we went to Holland, where we went to the wooden shoe factory.

The annual Pumpkin Sale held last Saturday at Emery's Building Materials was real successful in spite of the "so-so" weather.

At present I don't know of anyone on the sick list or in the hospital. I would like to have you call to let me know so people could send them cards.

Save for retirement with U.S. Savings Bonds. They'll mature before you do.

You're still a kid at heart. Which explains why your favorite food is still a burger, fries and a shake. Why you believe that by summer you'll be in shape to go cross-country on your bike.

And why you still haven't started to save for retirement.

Exactly what are you waiting for? The first day of your retirement when you find yourself with no more job and no more paychecks?

Give your retirement savings program a solid foundation by investing in U.S. Savings Bonds. They're backed by the full faith and credit of the United States and guaranteed to earn interest.* And they're easy to buy for just a few dollars each payday through your employer's U.S. Savings Bonds Payroll Savings Plan. Or buy them at your bank.

Plus, the interest earned on U.S. Savings Bonds is exempt from state and local income taxes and can be deferred for federal income tax purposes for up to 30 years.

Ask your banker or your employer about including U.S. Savings Bonds in your retirement savings program. And who knows? Your bonds just might mature before you do.

Our condolences go out this week
to the family and close friends of Jim Rowe of Lovell who died Sunday, Sept. 29. He was a longtime friend and will be greatly missed.

Also, our sympathy and prayers go out to the family and friends of Mrs.
Leona M. Tanner of Shrewsbury, Mass., who died Sept. 26. Mrs. Tanner was the mother of our Rev.
Janice Wilcox.

This week there is a steady stream of cars by the house, on the way to the Fryeburg Fair and to see the pretty foliage. Albert and I went to the fair on Tuesday. It was a beautiful day and a fun day. We did stop in to see Clyde Millett's nice, pretty steers and all the ribbons they had won. We saw the llamas and horses,
etc. The fair is too big to see everything in one day and we don't get around as fast as we used to.

On Sunday, Sept. 29, Joyce Scott was our substitute minister and we all enjoyed her sermon and services.
I met new friends there, Mr. and Mrs. Easter from Mexico, who have been staying at Evergreen Valley this past week. They are much involved in their church and grange matters. We saw them at the fair.
We also saw Barbara and Henry Paradis to chat with. We miss them at the Country Way Restaurant.
What a small world and lot of changes, but guess we all have to go with the flow.

Last Saturday, Frances Grant and I worked on the "Share New England" program in Oxford. This is a program that buys foods in quantity
so they can sell it at cheaper prices to the customers. We pay $15 and do two hours' work for the community or some good project that helps people, and we get about $30 worth of foods. We have found the foods to be excellent quality and real nice and fresh. There is always meat, fruit, vegetables and bread, etc. in the package. And we meet the nicest people there. The last Saturday of the month is delivery day and sign-up day for the following month.

Much work is being done at Camp
Susan Curtis here in Stoneham lately. An estimated $100,000 worth of professional work has been donated to the design and construction of a new building which will be used for a dining hall and activity hall at the camp, which will accommodate 200 people. Camp Susan Curtis is for disadvantaged children of Maine to attend a two-week session of quality camping, education and social experiences. More than 7700 children from 250 communities have attended this great camp since 1971. I was secretary there for three summers and I know the kids get a good experience and good care and have fun while learning. This helps them strengthen their character and self-confidence.

This week, John Palmer will be moving to Fryeburg Health Care Center in Fryeburg. People can send cards and visit him there. I'm sure he would like that.

Eleanor Smith is recovering from a fall she had a few weeks ago.

Rex Allen is recovering from heart surgery at the Maine Medical Center in Portland and hopes to be home soon.

Upton

It's not fourth of July, but I hear
lots of "oooh's"
and "aahh's!"
Autumn foliage
is excellent.

Red is my favorite, but then bright yellow leaves with the sun's rays behind them stimulate my eye.

I saw a nice bull moose on Friday afternoon with a huge rack three miles from Upton. Did you ever see a moose "horse around?" Well, Ray and Vi Bernier report that a big bull moose was chasing the Edward's pony around the yard. Ray said it was quite humorous.

There's a new welcome sign at the Maine/New Hampshire line which reads "Maine, The Way Life Should Be."

Well, Gloria and Lauretta from West Bethel, my long Johns are back in my drawer. On Oct. 3 it happened. First snow flurries in Upton.
Maine moose hunting opened Monday, Oct. 7; New Hampshire's opens Saturday, Oct. 19.

Special Hello to T.H. "This 16-ounce Bud's for you."

Welcome John Richardson to the Upton Trivia Fan Club. Thanks for the books. One of John's books titled "The Wild River Wilderness," a saga of Northern New England by D.B. Wright, states that in 1793 Fryeburg was the first mail in the entire area. Post riders carried mail from Portland to Fryeburg and people came from all over the North Country for their mail.

My mother and I attended a ceremony for my great-grandmother
Eva Mills, who was presented with a certificate for 80 years at the grange. Those attending were Sterling and Irene Mills, Richard Felt, Kay McAllister, Wilma and Robert Day, Lettie and Carl Brooks, Bertha Benoit, Joe Yates, Peggy Blake, Lucy Robbins, Jane Mills and Tammy and me.

Rob, Norma Davis, Lori Phi and Sonja Davis all went to Vermont to visit Dawn. They went to Essex Junction, Hinesburg where she is a school teacher. They also saw the campus of Trinity College. They went to Shelburne Museum and Battery Park so that Norma and Rob could see Lake Champlain.

Kara Jacques had a soccer game on Oct. 2.

Dana Dagget celebrated his birthday on Wednesday.

Crystal and her daughter Jasmine came to visit on Thursday.

Friday night they held a hymn sing with over 50 attending at the North Woodstock Chapel.

One day last week as I stood looking over the valley, the tree
tops were etched
so closely

against the sky that their tops jabbed into its blue. A cool September wind rusted the turning leaves above me.
It made a mournful sound, something like the singing of insects in a dew-covered cornfield on an August night. The air was fragrant with the smell of autumn leaves.

Suddenly the murmur of the rising breeze came a sharp rattle, a flicker-like call. At first I thought of the flicker then realized the call was more powerful and louder.

Clearly revealed on a dead tree,
the remains of a one-time monster of the forest, was a great black woodpecker. With head pulled far back and crest blazing in the sun, he scanned his watch tower to the far top.

Once he opened a wing, as if to flash its conspicuous white markings. Then he sprang away with a diagonal flight down the air to a lower tree, showing the great white area under his wings to fine advantage. As I was a bit secluded, I watched him as he split off large slabs from the decaying tree and chiseled out decaying wood directing attack against, no doubt, an infested section. Chips and bark flew in every direction, as a result of his sledge-hammer blows in rapid succession, swinging his head through an arc of six to eight inches. At last he must have uncovered the insects and silence reigned, while he extracted them. When I moved he flew, for his sight and hearing are very keen. Again early evening and the next day he returned. Maybe I had disturbed his meal and he came to finish, or possibly he was just enjoying the slow flowing pond water;
its borders clogged with weeds and lily pads. Possibly he liked the September day-break when water was calm, untroubled by the light breeze that barely fans the cheek or the far shore low and swampy and screened by water brush.

No matter what Pileated Woodpecker's reason for returning, I hope he likes the slim spires that rise against the rosy light of coming dawn and will come again.

Lettie Brooks, Zilpha DiArenzo
and I went with Dot Betts to North Windham to visit Doris Hayes on Wednesday.

Albert and Marie Curtis had an anniversary party one evening last week at their home on Hayes Hill.
Many relatives and friends attended.
Everyone had a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brooks came to take me to visit my sister Lucy at the Norway hospital on Friday.

Ann Holt was in Portland last weekend to visit friends.

Dot Betts had some of her children
visit over the weekend.

Sorry there wasn't any news
from me last week. I had to have some tests
at the hospital
and time got away from me.

Rick and Sally Wing came for Rick's birthday dinner on Sunday.
Kellie Record, Jessie Hart, Richard Wing and Sally and Rick enjoyed the dinner. Cake and ice cream were served a little later. Sadie also attended and enjoyed playing with my cat Bobby.

One day last week Esther Davis entertained her sister, Martha Hines,
for lunch and some visiting.

Gordon "Yogi" Dillingham, who recently had heart surgery, was honored at a benefit supper. There was a good turnout and much support. Gordon is recovering but not as fast as he'd like.

Rick Wing is working in Portsmouth, N.H. at the Northeast Housing Factory as production manager.

Claribel and Buster are now in their new mobile home in South Woodstock. I had a chance to go through it a few days ago and it is quite beautiful. They are trying to get settled.

Harry Hutchinson has been attending the local fairs with his horses.

Samantha Poland is attending the University of Maine at Farmington this year. She is also working at Pat's Pizza in Bethel whenever she can.

Sarah Hart is attending SMTC in South Portland. She is working at the Radisson Hotel and Restaurant near where she is living. She went for an interview at the restaurant at 3:30 p.m. and started work at 5 p.m.
that same night.

October birthdays being celebrated this month are: Dustin Tilley, Aaron

Howdy friends!
This is Tuesday morning, the first day of October, and it looks like it might be another nice day so lets enjoy it while we can.

Last Tuesday Peggy went to Franklin Grange to help serve dinner to the Topsham Senior Citizen group. They were on a tour up this way and had planned ahead for their lunch at Franklin Grange. Entertainment was provided after dinner.

Raymond Tripp, from Norway, called to see how well I was gaining and wondered if I'd be able to fill my office as overseer at the Oct. 1 meeting. I told him I planned to be there.

Gendron Oil Company came this forenoon to clean our furnace to have it ready for the cold winter weather.

Another caller was Peter Musso
from Androscoggin Home Health, as he wondered how many more times I would need their services to take blood for tests.

Peggy started Thursday morning by picking some vegetables and getting them ready to go into the West
Paris Grange Exhibit at the Fryeburg Fair.

Loretta Merrill and Barbara Stevens were down this way to do some shopping so they called on us for a little while. Barbara made me feel better by telling me that she'd been told that only the good die young, so she expected that I'd be around for quite some time. I hope she's right. We always enjoy their visits and wish they lived close enough to come more often.

We visited Richard and Barbara Felt for a while. It was our usual bedtime when we got home and at that time the moon was about half covered by the eclipse. We didn't stay up to see the full eclipse.

Friday was my mother's birthday.
If she was still with us, she would have been 99 years young. She wrote news for the Bethel Citizen for quite a long time.

We were surprised Friday evening to get a phone call from Bryce and Barbara Yates of Sunday River.
They had arrived home from their summer in Alaska. The canned salmon that they bring back with them is delicious.

Saturday afternoon, we joined other Franklin Grange members who all met as a body at Norway Convalescent home to see Verna Swan receive her 75-Year Certificate for continuous membership in the grange. Many members of her family were also present to witness the presentation by Richard Felt.
Many pictures were taken.

Then the same group of Franklin Grange members went to the home of Eva Mills on Rumford Avenue in Bryant Pond. We were welcomed by her sons and she was presented a certificate for 80 years of continuous membership in the grange. Eighty years is a long time to belong to an organization, which is an achievement not many people can claim.
We were given refreshments by members of the family and that helped to make our visit there even more enjoyable. We hoped to see a moose there, as they see one quite often, but he didn't show up while we were there.

Sister Peggy and Doc Merrill attended the dance at Locke Mills town hall and they had a very good time.

Sunday afternoon we went to Franklin Grange Hall to get set up and ready to confer the Pomona Degree, when Oxford Pomona Grange meets there. There was also supposed to be a rehearsal of the Pomona Degree, but many of the officers failed to show up, so the few faithfuls that did make it couldn't have the planned rehearsal.

Callers at the Lovejoy home have been Jackie Stevens and Grace LaRosa from High Street and Betty and Walter Bragg.

There will be a ham supper at West Paris Grange Hall on Oct. 12
from 5 to 6:30 p.m. Homemade rolls and pies will be part of the supper.
The charge is $5 for adults and $3 for those under 12. There will be a dance at 8 p.m. with music by the Richard Felt Orchestra. The supper and dance are both part of a fundraising venture by Tri-Town Ambulance and Rescue Service to add to their defibrillator fund. They certainly are a big help to the towns, and I certainly appreciated their services when I had my recent sickness.

Don't forget the Craft, Food and White Elephant Sale at the West
Paris Grange Hall on Nov. 2 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Tables are still $3 in the past. To reserve tables, contact Peggy Blake at 674-3872. The Cookie Walk has proved desirable and will be part of the sale.

HEADING TOWARD A RECORD--Despite the efforts of the goalkeeper, Telstar's Tony Buker (24) put this head shot in the net for one of his two scores in a soccer game against Leavitt last week. Telstar won, 6-2. As of Monday, Buker was one shy of the school record for goals in a single season -- 18.

It is necessary for me to present a corrected schedule for some upcoming activities. Please make note of the following dates. Oct. 14 there will be no school because of Columbus Day.

Oct. 15 is the next Parent Volunteer meeting to be held in the library at 6:30 p.m. We have a lot of business to tend to, so come and find out what exciting things are being considered.

Oct. 25 is an early-release day for grades K-6. Children will eat lunch at school and be dismissed at 12:30.

Nov. 1 is the end of the first quarter. We are more than half way through the first ranking period.

Nov. 11 is Veterans Day and there is no school.

On Tuesday, Nov. 12, there will be no school for children, as that is our parent-teacher conference day.

Watch for information coming home a week or two before, to sign up for afternoon or evening conferences. Our first Book Fair of the year will be going on at the same time, as it is scheduled for Nov. 7-12.

The West Paris schools will be participating in national NETDAY '96 on Saturday, Oct. 19. We hope to get a good start on wiring the schools for Internet utilization.

This will mean drilling a lot of holes and pulling cable to all the rooms at our schools. Jim Burke will be coordinating the effort and welcomes volunteers of all talents. Just give us a call if you are interested in being a part of the nationwide effort.

The Parent Volunteer group has begun its first major fundraiser of the year. We are selling products from Cherrydale Farms. This was a very successful fundraiser last year. In addition to raising money for the playground, the volunteer group provides some money for class field trips and for items that would come under a teacher's wish list. We are lucky to have such a supportive group.

Mr. Burke and I met with a committee of fifth-grade parents to start planning our fundraising for the annual trip to Boston.

Our first event is going to be a public supper put on in conjunction with the First Universalist Church of West Paris. Both groups will be providing and working on the supper, and we will share the profits. So again, mark Friday, Oct. 25 on your calendar. The supper will start at 5 p.m. and the cost is $4 for all ages 12 and over. Those 11 and under will pay only $2. There will be beans, casseroles, salads, biscuits, dessert, coffee and punch. Come and enjoy the good cooks from both groups.

FRIENDS OF TMS

Friends of Telstar Middle School recently held their first meeting for the 96/97 school year. The officers are Mindy Seames and Patty Parsons, co-presidents; Donna Lunney, treasurer and Linda Howe, secretary.

A committee was set up to organize an activity night that the group will sponsor in November. Pizza Hut gold cards are available for $10. Call 836-3745 to purchase one.

A recent bottle drive was successfully organized by Gina Douglass and took in $385.

The next Friends meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 16, at 7 p.m. Steve Keene will be the speaker and his topic is the history and current status of the middle school health program.

OC RETIRED TEACHERS

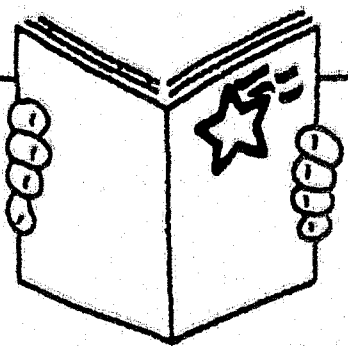

The Oxford County Retired Teachers will meet at Center Lovell Congregational Church on Oct. 19. The social period will start at 10:30 a.m. and the business meeting at 11. Rudolph and Jo Ann Royer will present a program of violin and piano music. The scholarship fundraiser will be a cookie walk.

REACH FUNDRAISING

The Rape Education and Crisis Hotline (REACH) is currently fundraising. The center is the second busiest center in the state, staffed mainly by volunteers.

REACH is raffling a hand-carved and painted loon decoy made and donated by Dick and Donna Kusheba (D&D Woodcrafters) of Norway. Raffle tickets are available at the REACH office in Norway; Mollycckett Marketplace Antique Center on Route 26 in West Paris; Dr. Wood's office at the Ripley Center in Norway; the Lovell Library; and through its board members. Raffle tickets are $1 each or 6 for $5. The drawing will be held on Nov. 6. All proceeds will be used in operating the center. For more information, call (207) 743-9777.

School sports

High school boys' varsity soccer

Telstar 1, Lisbon 1

Oct. 4--Tony Baker netted his 17th goal of the season -- just one shy of the school's season record -- in the first half of the match, but Lisbon answered with one of their own late in the game. Numerous opportunities for the Rebels were wasted late in the game and through two overtime periods. "Jason Mullen was outstanding in the goal in his first full-time game," said coach Bob Remington.

Telstar 6, Leavitt 2

Oct. 2--Tony Baker put in two goals and Jason Rosenberg, Cory Koch, Tim Adams and Jason Poirier each added one as Telstar beat Leavitt. Adams' and Poirier's goals were their first as varsity players. Koch and Rosenberg also had an assist, as did Jason Berry, Jay Home and Nate Whitworth. Goalies Wade Luxton and Jason Mullen each had five saves.

Hebron 1, Gould 0

Oct. 2--Hebron Academy's John Kennedy scored with three minutes remaining in regulation play lifting his team victory over the Huskies in Bethel last Wednesday.

Boys' J.V. soccer

Gould 1, Kents Hill 0

Oct. 5--Gould remains undefeated with Saturday's narrow win over Kents Hill School at Kents Hill. Eric Hanian played an outstanding game in goal stopping a barrage of Kents Hill shots until Justin Gray scored the game winner for Gould late in the second half. The Huskies hold a 4-0-1 record.

Gould 4, Hebron 1

Oct. 2--Jon Gould scored his first goal of the season while Justin Hall, Carl Davis, and Matt Nocker added one apiece in last Wednesday's win over Hebron Academy in Bethel.

Boys' reserve soccer

Gould 2, Brewster 0

Sept. 28--Robin Ghermer and Seth Stretch provided assists for goal scorers Wick Foster and Caspar Krogbeumer in the Huskies' win over Brewster Academy.

Girls' varsity soccer

Gould 4, Kents Hill 2

Oct. 5--Gould dominated first-half play in Saturday's victory over Kents Hill School scoring four goals and preventing a single Kents Hill shot. Megan Flaherty scored two goals while Molly Gray notched one goal and one assist and Lindsay Richardson scored one. Team captain Jill Donovan led the defense to the first-half shut-out. It was Gould's first win of the season and the Huskies currently hold a 1-3 record.

Girls' J.V. soccer

Gould 2, Kents Hill 0

Oct. 5--Sarah Crocker and Teri Chadbourne scored for Gould in Saturday's victory over Kents Hill School at Kents Hill. The Huskies currently hold a 2-2 record.

Waynflete 3, Gould 0

Oct. 3--Gould lost to Waynflete School in Portland on Thursday.

NEW RECORD HOLDER--Telstar senior Beth Howe set a new school record against Lisbon for career goals -- 56. She scored twice in the Sept. 27 game to tie and then break the record, previously held by Georgia Gould (1983). Howe is shown here with the ball she put in the net to break the record. She has scored four times in games since, for a total of 60 goals.

High school varsity field hockey

Gould 3, Kents Hill 0

Oct. 5--Meredith Mason just keeps on scoring, putting two in the box and recording one assist in last Saturday's win over Kents Hill School. Anna Warner also scored for the Huskies.

Telstar 1, Hall-Dale 0

Oct. 4--Beth Howe tallied the only goal of the game as the Rebels defeated Hall-Dale. Michelle McInnis had an assist, and goalie Jessie Wight had three saves. Telstar outshot Hall-Dale, 23-9. The Rebels' next game is today (Oct. 9), at home against Leavitt.

Telstar 3, Mountain Valley 0

Oct. 2--Beth Howe had a hat trick as the Rebels defeated Mountain Valley. Liza Fyrberg had an assist. Goalie Jessie Wight made two saves. Telstar outshot Mountain Valley 9-2.

Gould 4, Hebron 0

Oct. 2--Meredith Mason repeated an earlier performance against Hebron Academy scoring a pair of goals in last Wednesday's win over the Lady Lumberjacks in Bethel. Caroline Riss and Lydia Mills also scored while Shelley MacQuinn and Marcy LaVallee notched one assist each.

J.V. field hockey

Gould 2, Brewster 0

Oct. 5--Riley Hansen and Chelsea Bartlett scored one apiece helping Gould beat Brewster Academy and set a 3-0 season record. Goalie Amanda Barrett earned another shut-out and has yet to be scored on this season.

Telstar 1, Hall-Dale 0

Oct. 4--Heather Roderick scored the only goal of the game in the first half, as the Rebels beat Hall-Dale. Emily Phillips made eight saves in goal. "Emily is the girl who kept us in the game," said coach Sheri Head. "Sam Mullen played great defense with a lot of nice drives and tackles. Jen Walker had some nice carries. There was great backup by Staci Littlehale. The girls played like a team by watching out for each other."

Telstar 2, Mountain Valley 0

Oct. 2--Angie Baker scored a goal in the second half, and 40 seconds later Erica Gundersen scored the second goal in a win over Mountain Valley. Emily Phillips made five saves in goal. "We had good offense by Mandy Berry and Therese Raxell, and good defense by Erin Dennis and Becky LaVallee," said coach Sheri Head. "The girls came alive in the second half and took over the game."

Gould 3, Hebron 0

Oct. 2--Goalie Amanda Barrett played two shut-out games against Hebron last Wednesday--she replaced an injured Kate Graham in the varsity win, then returned to goal for her own JV game. Riley Hansen, Liz Rosenthal, and Lesley Robbins each scored one goal while Chelsea Bartlett notched an assist.

Middle school varsity field hockey

Telstar 1, Mt. Blue 0

Oct. 3--Stephanie Vaughan scored the only goal for the Rebels with assists by Kimberly Tibbetts and Marianne Nadeau.

Telstar 8, Livermore Falls 0

Sept. 30--Stephanie Vaughan and Marianne Nadeau each had a hat trick, and Emily Gilbert added two more goals in a win over Livermore Falls. Strong defense was provided by Katie Wight, Erika Kenyon and Kimberly Tibbetts.

Celebration Barn Theater presents Cirque de la Mort

Celebration Barn Theater in South Paris will celebrate Halloween in grand style again this year when it presents Cirque de la Mort (Circus of the Dead).

This all-new production, directed by Michael Milon, will be running Thursday through Sunday, Oct. 10, 11, 12 and 13, Friday through Sunday, Oct. 14, 15 and 16, Oct. 25, 26 and 27, and Halloween night, Thursday, Oct. 31. Performance times are: Fridays and Saturdays at 4 p.m., Thursdays and Sundays at 7 p.m. There will be no performances at 2 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 25 and 27. There will be a last-price preview night on Thursday, Oct. 10.

Regular ticket prices are $6 for adults and $5 for children under 12. Reservations are required and may be made by calling the Barn's box office at (207) 743-4452. Celebration Barn Theater is located at 190 Lake Park Road, just off Route 117 North, in South Paris.

Michael Milon returns this year by popular demand as director and ring master of Celebration Barn's annual Halloween show.

Cirque de la Mort features a variety of acts performed by a variety of talented artists and explores four elements of life. Each scene represents the performers' worst fears on stage. Comedy, music, and emotion are created by the unwilling participants in a show that will never end for them.

This year's lead comedy guest artist, Jennifer Bagelman of COGAMICA and Jay Gulligan of "Frank."

Bagelman is a veteran of Celebration Barn Theater both as a student and as a performer, most notably in the original Dark Tales Halloween show. She currently resides in Connecticut and performs with COGAMICA, the renowned Commedia Dell'Arte touring company.

Bagelman, originally from Ohio, has been residing in Maine for over a year and has been working with the juggling troupe "blink." Cirque de la Mort marks the first of many new ambitious projects he is currently working on. Additionally, Jay holds the most gold medals ever awarded by the International Juggler's Association.

As noted earlier, Michael Milon will be returning both as director and as the ring master of Cirque de la Mort. Mike brought his unique brand of comedic juggling to the White House in April, and is currently planning a tour of Europe this winter.

In addition, Cody LaMontagne returns for her third Halloween. Cody has studied mime with Tony Montanaro, and is active in the Out-landish Acting Award.

Jason and Matthew Tardy add their superb juggling talents and performance experience to round out this year's show. They also performed with Mike Milon as "Fusion" and currently tour New England with rave reviews.

Bethel Selectmen's Meetings

On weeks in which the Bethel selectmen meet (usually the weeks of the first and third Mondays in the month) the meetings will be televised on Channel IV. The broadcasts will normally be at 7 p.m. on Friday, but schedule modifications will occasionally be necessary, so please check the on-air calendar for up-to-date information. Broadcast of the selectmen's meeting is a cooperative effort of Channel IV and The Bethel Citizen.

ORSWC recycling center to be renamed

The Oxford Regional Solid Waste Corp. will rename its building the "Albert B. Soule Recycling Center" after one of its founding members. A public ceremony is planned at 2 p.m. on Oct. 13 at the Brown Street building in Norway, where the new sign will be unveiled.

The change in the center's name was approved by a vote of the Board of Directors. Soule resigned from the board three years ago but has remained as a consultant for the center's recycling efforts.

When the corporation was formed six years ago, the goal of organizers was to remove recyclable materials from the waste stream to reduce the cost of solid waste disposal.

Along the way, the towns of Norway and Paris mandated recycling for all residents, and 18 towns signed on to participate. Because of the enormous amount of input from the member towns, the center was able to recycle 36.8 percent of all waste last year, with a higher 48-percent recycling rate in Norway and Paris.

This high recycling rate, says Educational and Marketing Director Marie Bartlett of Greenwood, is exactly what the corporation would like to see all towns achieve as they strive to meet the state's 50-percent recycling goal.

Sigmund Sysko of Newry credited Soule of South Paris with going "through all the preliminary effort to convince all the towns around to join in a regional group to promote recycling. He foresaw the closure of the various landfills in these communities that the state was beginning to talk about in the late 1980s."

He also "foresaw the need for a change in the amount of materials we put in the landfills, because he felt that if we recycle, many of these communities could minimize the amount of waste they could dispose of," Sysko said.

Member towns are Bethel, Brownfield, Canton, Denmark, Gilead, Greenwood, Hanover, Hartford, Hebron, Lincoln Plantation, Newry, Norway, Ousfield, Paris, Stoneham, Upton, Waterford and Woodstock.

The corporation recycles newspaper, corrugated cardboard, office and mixed paper, magazines and junk mail, clear and brown glass, plastic, aluminum and tin cans. In 1991 the center recycled 566 tons of materials, climbing to 1,549 tons in 1995. This year's figures are down to 1,098 tons of recyclable because the market was so profitable most of 1995, that large haulers took material directly to market sources and bypassed the regional center completely, Bartlett said.

According to Sysko, the Oxford County recycling center is recognized statewide for its continued efforts to promote and implement recycling programs. The center has won numerous regional and state awards, and Bartlett has been cited often for her educational programs offered at the center and through schools in Oxford County. She received a state award of achievement this year for her effective public education programs. And this year the Oxford County commissioners issued a certificate of appreciation to the corporation for its continued recycling efforts.

Maine's goal for statewide recycling has been set at 50 percent and Bartlett said the center is working toward that end, spending a lot of time educating families about the need to recycle.

Children at the Mildred Fox Elementary School in Paris are one of the county's top recyclers, Bartlett said, with third-graders operating the in-school program. Students recycle all of the materials they generate at the school that are accepted at the center, which includes a regular routine of washing and recycling juice boxes.

Obituaries

THOMAS D. LAMBERT

Thomas D. Lambert, 64, died early Friday morning, Sept. 27, 1996 at home in Newcastle, ending a six year struggle with cancer.

Born in Glendale, W. Va., he moved frequently with his family before settling in Illinois where he attended the University of Illinois Laboratory High School. He then attended the University of Illinois where he graduated with a bachelors degree in education in 1955.

Upon completing college, he entered the Air Force. Over his 11-year military career as a pilot in the Strategic Air Command, he flew B-47's and B-58's, and left the service as a major.

His background in flight led him to employment with Pan American World Airways. As a flight engineer, he flew 707's and 747's both domestically and internationally. Additionally, he devoted much of his time to union work with the Pan American Chapter of the Flight Engineer's International Association, serving as President from April 1987 to Sept. 1991. He played an instrumental part in continuing operations of the airline through bankruptcy until its final days in 1991. The end of his airline career was spent with Delta Airlines.

Tom and his family have lived at Sunday River for the past 10 years, and have many friends in the local area. Tom was on the Board of Directors for the Summit Hotel at the time of his death.

Tom will be remembered by most for his straightforward manner, humor, compassion, and loyalty to his friends. He possessed a love of flying, cars, art, handball and skiing. Most of all he loved his family. He worked hard at everything he chose to pursue, and expected the same from others.

He leaves his wife Mary Beth and their three children, Nicholas, Abigail and Zachary; and a brother, Jim.

A private burial ceremony was held at Riverside Cemetery in Newcastle on Sunday, Sept. 29, 1996. Donations in his memory may be made to the Tom Lambert Memorial Fund, c/o Marilyn Upah Bant, University of Illinois Laboratory High School, 1212 W. Springfield Ave., Urbana, Ill. 61801.

JOSEPHINE L. STANTON

Josephine L. Stanton, 91, of North Waterford, died Saturday, Oct. 5, 1996, at her residence.

She was born in North Waterford on Aug. 31, 1905, daughter of Walter L. and Faye Bickford Lord, and was educated in North Waterford schools.

She was married to Henry Sanderston in 1928; he died in 1975. She married Clyde Stanton on Sept. 18, 1982, and had lived in North Waterford all her life.

Mrs. Stanton was a lifetime member of Stone-Smart 72 American Legion Post of Norway, VFW 9787 (Floyd Harlow Jr. Post) of South Paris, D.A.V.A. Chapter 11 Amelian Hammond Post of Lewiston. She was past noble grand of the Rebekahs of North Waterford and was a member of North Waterford Congregational Church.

Mrs. Stanton was employed at B.E. Cole Shoe Shop for many years and also worked at the Waterford Dowel Mill and was a nurses' aid at Northern Cumberland Memorial Hospital, Bridgton.

She enjoyed hunting and fishing and loved to dance. She enjoyed camping and was a member of the Fireside Friends and the Good Sam Club.

Survivors include her husband of North Waterford; one son, Albert Weymouth of North Waterford; one daughter, Arlene Bean of West Bethel; a brother, Stanley Lord of Bethel; two sisters, Kay O'Leary of South Paris and Faye Crandall of Sanford; five grandchildren, 11 great-grandchildren and 12 great-great-grandchildren. She was predeceased by two brothers, Lee and Myron Lord and a sister, Gwendolyn Pike.

Graveside services were held Tuesday, Oct. 8, at Hillside Cemetery, East Stoneham. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the Community Health Center, 107 High Street, Bridgton, ME 04009, or to the North Waterford Congregational Church.

BENTON N. SWAN

Benton Neal Swan, 85, of Sunday River Road, North Bethel, died early Sunday morning, Oct. 6, 1996, at Stephens Memorial Hospital.

He was born in North Bethel on May 3, 1911, son of Bion O'Neal and S. Mildred York Swan, and had been a resident of that community all his life.

Mr. Swan attended the Little Red School House at North Bethel. He was married to Nettie F. Rich on Oct. 18, 1953; she died in 1979.

He was a local farmer and woodsman, involved in logging operations and had worked in a large number of local valleys and mountains of the Western Maine area. He retired in 1980 from Roberts Poultry Farm, where he had been associated with Stan Roberts for over 20 years.

During World War II, Mr. Swan served in the Bethel Unit of the Maine State Guard. He was a registered Maine Guide and was an extremely avid hunter and trapper for nearly 80 years.

He was noted for feeding the deer on the family homestead for over 30 years.

He was a sexton of Mount Will Cemetery, North Bethel, a family tradition that has endured for over a century.

Survivors include one daughter, Milly Akers of South Paris; two sons, James and Jon, both of North Bethel; and five grandchildren, Bion and Michael Swan, Kalynda Akers and Sarah and Shelby Swan. He was predeceased by a brother, Burton Swan.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. on Wednesday, Oct. 9, at the Greenleaf Funeral Home, Bethel. Interment will be at Mt. Will Cemetery. Should friends desire, memorial donations may be made to American Cancer Society, Memorial Program, Box 456, Brunswick, ME 04011, or Benton Swan Deer Feeding Tradition, c/o James Swan, 74 Sunday River Road, Bethel, ME 04217.

ALBANY CHURCH MEETING

The semiannual (fall) meeting of the Albany Congregational Church will be Monday, Oct. 21, at 7 p.m. in the church vestry. Those interested are welcome to attend.

Card of Thanks

I wish to thank everyone for making my retirement party so special - the limousine ride, flowers, dinner, the lovely cake, cards, gifts, and my family being able to join me for the occasion. Words are not adequate to express my thanks for the past 49 years of memories and kindnesses from everyone.

Sincerely - Celia Boyd

Don't think of me as gone away
My journey's first begun
I've held so many facets
This earth is only one
Last think of me as resting
From the sorrows and the tears
In a place of warmth and comfort
Where there are no days and years
Think how I must be wishing
That you could know, today
How nothing but your sadness
Can really pass away
And think of me as living
In hearts of those I touched
For nothing loved is ever lost
I was loved so much

Sadly missed and loved
